

Disclaimer

This program is not intended to diagnose or treat illness. Results will vary from person to person and are directly related to taking aligned action towards your goals. The 6-month program provides a systematic framework for developing health supporting behaviors and sustainable habit change, but results will take consistency, time, and effort. All education provided is derived from evidence-based peer reviewed sources, but should not replace information and recommendations made by your medical provider.